Canton's Cavalcade. The cavalcade of prize animals took place on the driving park at one o'clock on Wednesday. There was a fine lot of animals in the parade. Livermore Falls band escorted the procession. Heading the teams were J. H. Nash's white-faced oxen, and they were beauties. Then came the town team of Hartford with ten pairs of nice looking oxen; the Sun- 1897, ner town team, with ten pairs of good steers; R. McCollister's nice Durham herd of cattle; the Jersey herd from Kingsfield farm, S. M. King, proprietor, South Paris; the Jersey herd from A. E. Russell's Mountain View farm, Liver- 1897, more; then the young cattle, calves, bulls and calves. Next were the mated horses owned by A. F. Russell; the brood mares and colts. On the grounds were a nice looking pair of gray horses owned by A. C. Fuller.

Drawing Contest. In the 2-year-old steer class, Charles Newell first hitched to the drag and took it 111 ft. 2 in.; D. A. Tuttle, Bucksport, hitched and took this load 342 ft. 3 in.; J. Perkins, Jay, took the load 8 ft. 2 in.; E. Peterson, last and least, taking the load 8 inches.

In the 3-year-old class, Elton Ames, Sumner, first hitched but was unable to move the load; George Young, Hartford, took the load 10 ft. 9 in.; Charles Newell, Sumner, took the load 3 ft. 7 in.; N. Perkins took the load 3 ft.

In the 6 foot 10 oxen class, Alton Ames first hitched on the drag, took the load 33 ft. 4 in.; John E. Thompson next took the load 54 ft. 4 in.

In class 7 ft. 2 and under, Oscar Turner hitched on his white faces with William Bonney as driver, and hauled it 175 ft. 9 in.; Andrew Rich, late of Greenwood, on the drag and took the load 10 ft. 6 in.

In the sweepstakes class, Geo. R. Russell first hitched his big, broad horned cattle to the drag with Wm. T. Bonney teamster and moved the load 85 feet. Moses Young hitched on his white faces and teamster Bonney handled the good, pulling the load 20 ft. 6 in. J. H. Nash of Jay with his white faces pulled the load 84 ft. 11 1/2 in.

Drawing contests with horses on Thursday followed. In the 2-year-old class, Bethel, first hitched to the load and took it 336 feet and 10 inches; H. F. Campbell next hitched on and made a pull of 391 feet and 10 inches; W. H. Thompson hauled the load 238 feet and 6 inches; the awards were: Bethel, 1st; Campbell, 2d; Thompson, 3d.

The fair closed, Thursday night, its most successful meeting with a surplus to decrease debts after paying bills. At the annual society meeting, J. W. Thompson of Canton was elected pres- 1897, ident; W. W. Rose of Canton, vice pres- 1897, ident; H. T. T. Carroll of Canton, sec- 1897, retary; W. G. Goding of Peru, treasurer; W. W. Noble at Dixfield and G. S. Childs of Bucksfield, trustees.

There were two races in the afternoon, the 2.45 class with five starters and the 2.15 with four. The latter was the best race of the fair. In the first heat Ma- 1897, della won from second position to first on the first quarter and followed the lead near the wire, when Baby S. and Lady Goodwin came up finishing so even that it was difficult to decide upon the win- 1897, ner. Madella was set back for bad driv- 1897, ing. Lady Goodwin was not headed during the second heat, but the finish was exciting. In the third heat Lady Goodwin broke soon after the start and Madella went into first position, which she held for some distance, when Baby S. passed her, and Lady Goodwin won at the finish.

There was a base ball game during the race. Score: Lewiston Athletics 10, Cantons 8. The summaries:

Ring Out, Oh, Bells.

Swift from the Origin of Life, Swift as an arrow's flight, Into the bitter, angry strife, Another soul is born to earth, Ring out, wild bells, your sorry mirth.

Ring out for the miseries of life, Ring for the unrequited love, With endless disappointments rife, And ere his innocence is vain, Another soul is born to earth, Ring! ere his innocence is vain.

Ring! for the heritage of earth, Is striving hard to win, Is weary toil from the hour of birth, Sore heart and a maddened brain, Ring! for the unrequited love, And the care that chokes like a serpent's coil.

Ring! for the mystery of life, Why it exists at all, Better oblivion than the strife, Better the somber pal, Small indeed, is the battle's gain, Beside its vicissitudes and pain.

Ring out, Oh, bells! Ring loud and clear, Glad from your unseen spheres, Ring for the heartache and the tear,— Ring for the heartache and the tear,— Another soul draws mortal breath, Awaiting its heritage of death.

THE NEW WOMAN.

"I'm going to the club, my dear, so don't wait up for me."

"She murmured to her husband, just a little at first."

"How does this suit become me? Get my gloves and mittens, my dear."

"Now take good care of baby, for I'll soon be back again."

"Be careful that you lock the doors, and be a good boy, dear."

"Some change? Oh, yes, I had forgotten, but it's not much."

"You seem to be extravagant—I gave you some, last week!"

"It all went for the house, I'm sure," he said, in accents meek.

"Of course! That is the old excuse—I've heard to ask me every day for cash become a horrid bore."

"We must economize or else you'll always keep me broke!"

"There! I don't use that old argument—it's what I drink and smoke."

"My club's the little happiness that I have left in life!"

"If baby wakes, just feed her; I've my night key, love—goodbye!"

"Perhaps, if you are extra good, I'll bring you home a toy!"

"Is there anything I can do, ere I turn down the light?" he meekly said, "for I feel nervous, dear, to-night!"

"Do be so kind, my darling one, if you've the heart to stay!"

"And look under the bed to see if there's a woman there!"

Over Large Territory.

Perhaps there is no industry in this vicinity, there is of more benefit to the farming community than the butter factory of the Poland Dairy Association. It does a business of nearly $40,000 a year, and this money is distributed among the farmers for the two products of cream and eggs.

While the cream business does not pay quite so well as the raising of milk, it has its advantages, which many farmers think more than compensate for the difference.

The milk farmer, no matter whether he retails from a cart in this village, or wholesales in Portland and delivers on the cars at this station, has to arise early, milk his cows and deliver. Some of them travel a distance of four miles to this station as the morning train leaves this station at 5:30 a. m. One can readily understand the early hour they must leave their bed to do this work. The cream farmer, on the other hand, can arrange his own hours for doing his work, and the product which this village, or wholesales in Portland and delivers on the cars at this station, has to arise early, milk his cows and deliver. Some of them travel a distance of four miles to this station as the morning train leaves this station at 5:30 a. m. One can readily understand the early hour they must leave their bed to do this work. The cream farmer, on the other hand, can arrange his own hours for doing his work, and the product which this village, or wholesales in Portland and delivers on the cars at this station, has to arise early, milk his cows and deliver. Some of them travel a distance of four miles to this station as the morning train leaves this station at 5:30 a. m. One can readily understand the early hour they must leave their bed to do this work.

Speaking of the cream being delivered at the door, brings to mind the immense territory over which this product is gathered. This company has six gathering centers. D. L. Brett of Otsfield Gore takes the cream in his vicinity in Otsfield and in portions of the towns of Oxford and Poland. L. R. Miller of West Waterford gathers in Waterford, Hartford, Otsfield, Oxford and Poland, a route which requires four horses to do the work. F. O. Stowe gathers in the towns of Otsfield, Casco and Poland; C. C. Rowe in the towns of Paris and Oxford; A. R. Farris in the towns of Helvon, Minot and Poland; and O. H. Guphill in the towns of Poland and New Gloucester. This area is a strip of territory 30 miles long by 20 wide.

Women Need Not Be Discouraged.

The nervous tension under which most of our women constantly live afflicts the female organism seriously. Heavy household burdens, social gayeties, work in some commercial establishment, any of these duties seem impossible to women who are ill, and yet they keep up for a time under pressure of the demands on their strength, and do break down, the advice and treatment they receive from their family physician don't seem to go to the root of the trouble and they get no better. They are discouraged, worn out, tired of life.

The great specialist in women's diseases, Dr. Greene, of Newbury Park, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., has shown thousands of women who thought themselves hopeless invalids the way to health. His advice is open to all women for free consultation and advice, or if you will write him about your case, he will advise you by mail absolutely free of all cost and confidentially. The glorious remedies discovered by this profound physician are absolutely safe, and have no bad effects. It costs nothing to be sent on the road to health, and all suffering women should write Dr. Greene at once.

HALE.

A. H. Goff's new house is progressing finely.

J. W. Mason has just returned from a fishing tour.

Urbah, Kenerson spent Sunday with his brother, A. H. Goff.

H. E. Young and wife visited relatives on the Isthmus road, Saturday and Sunday.

Herman Mason and Mike Gill attended Andover fair. A good time was reported.

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called Grain-O? It is delicious, nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee but costs about 1/2 as much. All grocers sell it. 15c. and 25c.

Dig down to the cause of your sickness, if you want to get well and stay well. Most likely it's indigestion. The irritating poisons of fermenting, putrid food, left in the stomach, by indigestion, cause headache, neuralgia, nervousness, dizziness, stomach-ache, nausea, irritability, and all the other well-known symptoms of indigestion.

They also cause many pains and disorders which are often laid to other causes and hence are not easily cured. But as soon as the poisons are removed, all these symptoms and disorders disappear, because there is nothing left to cause them. Nothing succeeds in this like Shaker Digestive Compound, because it prevents the undigested food from fermenting in the stomach and helps the stomach to digest its food.

Frank L. Meserve, Fryeburg, pair of 3-year-old white faces, 6 feet 6 inches. C. V. Hartford, Denmark, pair of 6 months steer calves, Grade Hereford cows. A pair of yearling steers were shown by D. D. Carlton, Fryeburg.

A couple of yearling grade Hereford heifers, Clarence Osgood, Fryeburg; 4-year-old bull and 2 bull calves, thoroughbred Herefords, also a pair of yearling steers and a grade Jersey cow were shown by H. Ford, North Denmark.

A pair of trained yearling grade Dur-ham steers, Reuben Smith, Denmark. Mr. Smith also had two heifers. Chas. Ballard, West Fryeburg, two pairs of matched yearling steers. F. L. Meserve, Fryeburg, pair of steers, and F. W. Mes-erve a pair of year-olds.

A pair of draft oxen under 6 feet was shown by Reuben Smith of Denmark. Mr. Smith had also a full blood Hereford bull.

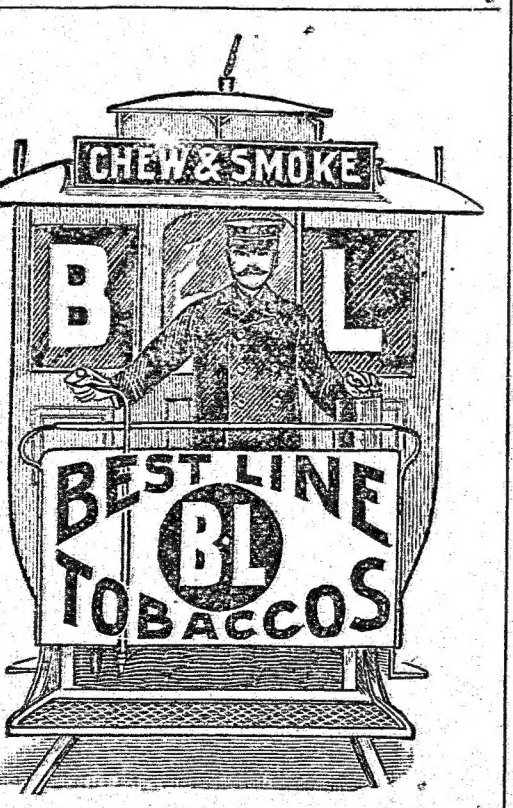

A nice pair of yearling steers are owned by E. E. Noble, East Hiram. Edwin Pingree, East Denmark had six steers, grade Devons. O. W. Adams, East Hiram, post-office Cornish, had a pair of Herefords and a pair of 6 feet 10 inch oxen.

Daniel Durgin, Hiram, had a pair of 2-year old pulling steers. Carleton H. Walker of Fryeburg had a heavy pair of Durhams, probably the heaviest pair on the grounds, measuring 7 ft. 10 in. Another pair of heavy 4200 cattle, belonged to Gen. Weston, Fryeburg, 7 ft. 4 in., red Durhams, and weigh 3000 pounds; pair white faces, 7 ft. 8 in., weight 4100 pounds, also to the same party, a pair of dark red cattle, 6 ft. 10 in.

John Atwood, Fryeburg, owned a pair 8 ft. 4 in., round weight 4000 pounds; pair of grade Holsteins belonging to the town of Fryeburg, measuring 7 ft.

Four pairs of four-year-olds, belong to George Weston; four pairs of two-year-olds, all belonging to Mr. Weston, making 12 pairs of nice steers and oxen belonging to him.

Steer Teams.
Ezra Davis, Denmark, had two pairs of grade Hereford steers. Charles R. Bean, East Hiram, had two pairs grade Devon steers.

A pair of oxen belonged to Sim Eaton, Brownfield, and next to these was a pair of steers belonging to Stillman Durgin, Brownfield, also the next pair of draft oxen, grade Devons.

A pair of white faces about 6 feet 6 inches in the line belong to James Bean, Brownfield. The next pair grade Devons belonged to John Marston, Brownfield; the next three pair belonged to Phil Durgin, same town. John Hodgdon, Brownfield, had a pair of speckled fellows; next were Leighton Spring's, same town. J. W. Perkins, Brownfield, had a pair of 6 feet 10 inch cattle and a heavy pair, also the next pair of matched oxen.

There were some 12 head of high bred Jerseys, led by the 3-year-old bull, Chief Patnone, A. J. C. C., No. 25012. His sire was Minnie's Duke of Darlington, dam the great Pet Clover, No. 6934 with official butter test of 18 pounds in 7 days. Another bull with the herd was Milford's Pride of Rabbis Poggis, an inbred St. Lambert. His dam has a butter test of 20 pounds in 7 days. This bull is 2 years old. The fine cows with this herd are all young and all St. Lambert and Darlington blood. A 4-year-old has made 14 pounds of butter in a week.

The swine included three prominent breeds. A pair of Essex, a breed but little known in this State, attracted attention from the spectators in color to the Berkshires. They are black and esteemed for their fineness of bone, large hams and aptitude to fatten. A fine lot of Berkshires of the Hood Farm strain were shown, among them a 4-months old boar, out of Hood's best imported sow, "Sweet O." A large lot of Ohio Improved Chesters filled the next pens. The boar leading this lot of Chesters has been a first prize winner over all competitors at all the prominent fairs.

Here were 15 Oxford Down sheep led by a Canada bred ram weighing 300 lbs. The Southdowns numbered 9 head led by a fine large buck, tipping the scales at 225 pounds.

The Mountain View exhibit included a fine lot of fowls, among them Dominions, fowls, and chooks. Polish fowls, brown and white, Leghorns, Wyandottes, barred and white Plymouth Rock fowls and chooks, bronze turkeys, Rouen ducks, Brahma, Minorca, Seabright and Black bantam fowls and chooks.

At the Drag.
The first class to pull was the 2 and 3-year-olds. The drag was set with some 6000 pounds of granite under it. Ernest Ingalls of Denmark hitched on a pair of stubbed 3-year-olds, 6 feet 6 in the line, red cattle, a pair of good pullers, but the load was too heavy for the cattle to move direct, and too heavy to show the best display of fair pulling. The steers zig-zagged the load 19 feet 7 inches.

Edwin Pingree, Denmark, next hitched on a pair of three-year-old grade Devons. They are a handsome pair, well matched and high strung. They made some good pulls at first but the inordinately heavy load discouraged the steers. They started the drag 7 feet.

In the next class, 6 feet and a half and under, Ernest H. Ingalls, Denmark, brought up a pair of red Durhams, 6 feet 6 inches the pair. Time called at 7 feet 2 inches.

Reuben Smith, same town, hitched on a pair of matched 4-year-olds. They started the load 3 feet 2 inches.

Harry Small of Denmark hitched on a pair of pullers about 6 feet 5. They did some good square lifting and moves the load dead ahead; in all 14 feet 5 inches.

Stephen Rowe of Denmark was the first man to pull in the under 7 feet class. His cattle filled the line at 6 feet 10. Stephen began very quiet, but he found his voice before he got through. The oxen are good square pullers and did some honest work. Distance, 25 ft. 4 inches.

A pair of white faces owned by Wesley Perkins of Brownfield, filling the line about 6 feet 11. Like most of the others they see-sawed the load, very little direct movement ahead—distance, 22 feet 10 inches.

In the heavy class, seven feet and over Carlton Walker of Fryeburg, hitched on his pair of big Durhams. They were off with the load over to the grand stand and part way back—so far no measurement was made.

Simeon Eaton next backed up a much smaller pair. The crowd failed to see where the fairness came in this way of pulling. They worked the drag 19 feet 6 inches.

For the sweepstake pullers about 1500 pounds more granite was added to the drag, which was more than most of the oxen could haul before.

Meserve was the first to hitch on his runaways with the drag before, but the load now was a different affair. They moved the drag 11 feet 11 inches.

John Colby of Denmark was a new man. His cattle were hardly as large as the last pair that pulled. They encountered the same difficulty as the others—the load was too heavy to make headway with. Distance, 10 feet 3 inches.

Ingalls was the next to hitch to the big load. He performed the usual tactics and worked the load 29 feet 8 inches.

George Weston brought in a new pair which will probably fill the line at 7 feet and a half or more. Distance, 15 feet 5 inches.

Stephen Rowe, next and last, took back his Devons. There was fire in their eyes and they exerted their muscles at a fofegone failure at the start, because the load was too heavy for cattle of their inches. They were lifters from the word go. "They have the best courage of any cattle that's been here," said one, and that was so. Distance, 9 ft. 3 inches. This ended the pulling.

Sheep and Swine.
H. D. Harnack, East Fryeburg, had a large white sow with nine pigs. They were beauties and the farmers bargained them in at $2 a head and made good trades. I. A. Andrews had two grade Yorkshire pigs. Reuben Smith, Denmark, had Chester sows with pigs and two nice shots. B. F. Buzzall of Fryeburg had two handsome shots.

C. E. Smith, Denmark, brought in a flock of grade Southdown sheep and lambs with buck.

Poultry.
A large number of coops were shown by P. S. Davis of Conway, N. H., including Buff Cochins fowls and chick, both varieties of Plymouth Rock, Minorcas, Brown Leghorn and game fowl. Joey Carter, Fryeburg, had a coop of Seabrights; Frank Barker, Leghorns; L. A. Andrews, Stow, had coops of ducks; Harold McKean, Fryeburg, two pairs White Wyandotte chicks, Light Brahma fowls and chicks, also White Wyandotte fowls.

Fruit.
One of the largest exhibitors of fruit was A. F. Sanborn of East Fryeburg, the largest fruit grower in West Oxford. He had some 50 plates of apples, and most of them very fine specimens, a number of varieties of pears and lots of grapes. Mr. Andrews of North Chatham, N. H., brought in 16 plates of apples and a number of pears; Mr. McAllister of Lovell had 12 plates of apples, several of pears and three plates of nice looking grapes; Mr. Barker of Fryeburg also had 8 plates of apples. William H. Farrington, North Fryeburg, had nice looking cranberries, also I. A. Andrews of Stow and Mrs. H. F. Lord, North Denmark.

Farm and Garden Products.
J. W. Barker of Fryeburg brought in a lot of fine looking vegetables and Frank Barker trace of 12-rowed corn; seed oats by H. B. Eastman; pop corn by J. H. Hartford, Hiram and Fred H. Meserve; Savoy potatoes by A. G. Walker, Lovell.

Z. McAllister, Lovell, had a lot of vegetables. W. H. Wakefield, Brownfield, had a fine collection of garden vegetables, also I. A. Brown, Stow; Seth W. Fife & Son of Fryeburg made a fine exhibit of farm and garden seeds.

G. M. Hackett, Fryeburg, a nice lot of vegetables, potatoes, etc. J. E. Pray, D. D. Carlton of Fryeburg and T. J. Durgin, Brownfield, all had fine looking vegetables.

Ladies' Department.
Wednesday forenoon the ladies filled their department and made a fine display of needlework and the rug and quilt in variety. The dairy specimens were good looking and the cooking temptingly nice to the eye.

The attendance at the fair, Thursday, was far in advance of the usual crowd on the last day. The unfinished 2.25 race was concluded in the afternoon, first money going to Janet, Tommy L., second; Bennie, third; H. P., fourth.

In the free-for-all race the record of the track was broken in some really fine trotting. Summary:

Oh, How They Hurt.
Neuralgic pains are often so acute, that the poor sufferer becomes, almost, frenzied with the intensity of the pain. Salvation Oil will instantly relieve and effectually cure neuralgia, so there is no reason why a moment's pain should be endured. Mr. Jacob Klein, 1036 Main St., Evansville, Ind., writes:

"My wife suffered from neuralgia for seven years and since she used Salvation Oil, she has not had a spell. I think it is the best liniment I have ever tried, and I would not be without a bottle of it in the house. I had the rheumatism for five years and had tried a great many liniments, and must say that Salvation Oil did me more good than any other remedy." Salvation Oil is sold everywhere for 25 cents.

In a practice game between Potter Academy and Fryeburg, Saturday, Porter won by a score of 12 to 6. Rich, Ballard and Thompson of Potter and Gallison of Fryeburg each made a touch down. The first regular game between the two schools will be played, Oct. 16, at Sebago.

The latest report received from Commissioner Carlton of Maine says 1069 guides have been registered and 1069 applications have been made to increase the number to 1100. We regard this registration of guides as one of the wisest movements that has ever been taken in the interest of game protection in this country. It will not only protect game, but protect sportsmen and guides. Commissioner Carlton deserves the highest praise for his wise forethought. He is several years in advance of most of the fish and game commissioners.

THE TURN OF LIFE

Is the most important period in a woman's existence. Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop for good, are symptoms of a dangerous nervous trouble. These hot flashes are just so many calls from nature for help. The nerves are crying out for assistance. The cry should be heeded in time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life.

The Vegetable Compound is an invigorating strength-giving and female organism. It builds up the weakened nervous system and enables a woman to pass that grand change triumphantly. It does not seem necessary for us to prove the honesty of our statements, but it is a pleasure to publish such grateful words as the following:

"I have been using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time during the change of life and it has been a saviour of life unto me. I can cheerfully recommend your medicine to all women, and I know it will give permanent relief. I would be glad to relate my experience to any sufferer."—MRS. Scrofula

Makes life misery to thousands of people. It manifests itself in many different ways, like goitre, swellings, running sores, boils, salt rheum and pimples and other eruptions. Scarcely a man is wholly free from it, in some form. It clings tenaciously until the last vestige of scrofulous poison is eradicated by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the

One True Blood Purifier.

Thousands of voluntary testimonials tell of suffering from scrofula, often inherited and most tenacious, positively, perfectly and permanently cured by

All his children were married but the youngest son, Guy, who lives with his parents, and they have lost a good father. He was a man whom everybody liked, so pleasant and kind, a man that we all shall miss. The family have our greatest sympathy in their great loss. His funeral was on Sunday, the 26th, at his home, conducted by Rev. F. E. Wheeler of West Paris.

Foot Ball at Bridgton.

The Norway eleven played their first game with Bridgton Academy, Saturday, October 2d. The day was simply a poem of autumnal beauty, and old Sol beamed most cheerfully upon the youth who padded away below.

All was joy and unadorned bliss. The Bridgton and Norway High School girls formed a dainty ring about the scene of carnage.

The first half opened with Norway's kick-off. With skill and ease that would have caused Mlle. del Monte to turn gray with envy, Prin. Wiley sent the sphere far down the field.

Then there was a rush that caused the very hopper-grasses to shriek with pain. A Bridgton man fell on the ball with a thud that was distinctly heard even into the folds of Snow's Falls.

Then the lines formed up and with whang-bang-plunk the game was on.

Right end and left end plays followed in quick succession. The Bridgton boys cracked the cross-cross to a charm.

The High School lad had had no second eleven to line up against and therefore were deceived most cruelly by that same blamed old cross-cross.

The Bridgtons worked slowly up the field and secured their first touch down.

Another kick off. Another line up. The Bridgtons try to go through the center and are snubbed up real quick. This was a pleasant surprise to the Norway delegation. We had expected to find the High School weak in the center, seeing that the opposing team was so much heavier. But it wasn't! And after twenty-one men had disentangled their various limbs and had picked out what each thought was his own, the twenty-second man took the rest and resolved the same into young Jewett. He's a dandy.

A cross-cross play now closed the first half with another touch down. Falling to kick the goal the score stood 10 to 0.

The second half opened with a swift kick-off by the Bridgtons. It was a low, snappy, nasty one to stop. It curved around Jewett's head only to be blocked by Smart. With the ball tucked up under his west-coast Smart hitched up his pants and made a strike for full time. He made a beautiful gain, and your correspondent yelled himself into an ulcerated sore throat chanting the praises of the above said Smart.

The Norway boys toiled half way through the territory of the enemy and then failing to fulfill the requisite conditions the ball passed over to the Bridgtons.

This half was contended more stubbornly than the first. If any contractors ever get corralled again just send up the High School eleven.

OXFORD COUNTY ADVERTISER, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1897.

The ends were weak or we would now be shouting a pean of victory rather than a lamentation.

Freddy Stearns followed his feet in the fire over the field and tackled nobly. Cap. Tubbs and Horne held the right flank and played for the pennant.

During the brief intervals in which snapper-tack Pegg was uncovered he, like John Maynard, stuck to his post.

The Bridgtons had now fought the ball down to Norway's goal and then fumbled it. Quick as lightning, substitute Carrier swooped down like unto an irate tax collector and made a touch back placing the score 12 to 0.

The ball now passed to the Norways and it was right here that if the stars in their course had not fought against us; if there hadn't been over three million people in Wiley's way we should have shed tears of joy. Kismet! It was fated different. Wiley struck out in a lonely circle, passing through the edge of Harrison, and while making the most beautiful sprint you ever saw and thereby gaining half the field, he met with the three million spectators mentioned above. Still he dodged half of the field with dexterity and killed the other half. (Metaphorically speaking of course).

Towne and Nelson are good men, and played great foot ball.

One more rush on Bridgton's part, which Andrews and B. Tubbs very neatly blocked, ended the game.

The visitors were treated tip-top and came home voting the Academy boys to be the real article.

You out class us, but we like you. The line up was as follows:

Tubbs.....Jewett

Miles.....Andrews

Cole.....Smart

Skilling.....Horne

Wright.....Cap. J. Tubbs

Freddie.....J. Tubbs

Towne.....J. Tubbs

Nelson.....J. Tubbs

Whitten.....J. Tubbs

Porter.....J. Tubbs

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Dyer are attending the fair at Little Riggly Park, Casco. They are running a victualing booth there this year. Mr. and Mrs. Morse of Oxford are keeping house for them while they are absent.

Camp Fire at Oxford.

Twenty-two members of Harry Rust Post and Relief Corps were transported to the last Oxford fair with John Hazelton as driver. About as many more went from Norway in teams, so that Norway was well represented at the fairing.

Representatives from Bridgton, Harrison, Mechanic, East, Elder, Falmouth and South Paris were present and perhaps some others.

The day was very fine and was enjoyed by all from beginning to end. The public speakers invited did not put in an appearance but that did not prevent a good entertainment, such as the Oxford people know just how to do. There was a large gathering and the after dinner exercises consisted of singing by a select choir of Oxford artists, and speaking by members of the different Posts represented, and a very interesting time relating war stories and reminiscences during and since the war, and no doubt was as satisfactory as though the time had been spent at speakers. Every body seemed satisfied and nothing to feel faint with.

The Norway Post and Corps decided to have a camp fire here on Thursday of next week and invited all present at Oxford to come.

Andover Town Meeting.

At a special town meeting called for the 13th of September, Andover was called upon to vote or act under a rather unique and queerly gotten up warrant, viz., to act on the following article:

To choose a moderator to preside at said meeting.

To see if they will vote to appeal to the Superior Court in the County of Oxford to appoint a commission to view the so called Swain Notch road and decide if the prayer of the petitioners for a discontinuance of said route should be granted or the action of the county commissioners on said petition be annulled, their judgment set aside.

To see if they will accept the private way across the land occupied by C. F. Corkum as laid out by the selectmen and set forth in their report of same.

E. M. BAILEY, Selection of Andover.

Four Large Factories.
One each in New York, Brooklyn, Newark, N. J., and Chicago, are owned by F. W. Devoe & Co., who make the paint that covers 1/2 better and wears 1/2 longer, and for which F. P. Stone is agent. Being the largest paint manufacturers in America, Messrs. Devoe & Co. undoubtedly have many advantages over all other concerns.

North Waterford Fair.
The typical town fair of Western Maine—large attendance and a good time generally.

The village of North Waterford is admirably adapted for holding a town fair. It is high and dry, large enough to take care of the crowd, and has a common in the center. The annual gathering, which each succeeding fall sees there is typical of rural Maine. It is the great holiday for the farmer folk for seven or eight or a dozen miles around. This year the sites smiled upon it, and the crowds gathered till the people filled the common and were found in large groups about the outskirts of the village in every direction. The fair is spread out from one end of the place to the other, which is a very good thing, as the throng of spectators does not make such a jam as would otherwise vex the man in a hurry. The church sheds and sides of the streets near the church held the live stock exhibit; on the common was a little array of fairs and vendors; and the upper story of the schoolhouse sheltered the display of crops and household manufactures. There were exhibits from citizens of Waterford, Lovell, Stoneham, Albany and Norway. We first looked over the Live Stock.

M. F. Lord had a yoke of red and white steer calves.

Justin E. McIntire & Sons, a yoke of brockle-faced 5-year-olds that fill the line at 7 feet.

Merritt Savin, yoke of large 6-year-old oxen, the near one red and his mate brindle.

J. F. Lord's 5-year-olds measure 7 ft., 3 inches. They are compact, square-shouldered and square-tipped, have drooping horns and black coats.

Fred L. Ray, yoke of oddly marked yearlings, of mixed Hereford and Holstein blood; yoke 2-year-old Holsteins, grithing 6 ft., and a yoke of 3-year-old Holsteins 8 inches larger. Also a clean white sow with eight pigs nearly large enough to wean.

Thomas Jordan, sturdy Holstein bull, the same that was awarded first money over a large number of competitors at the county fair.

J. Saunders & Son, yearling Durham bull; pair red oxen; pen containing 6 calves of different breeds and from four weeks to 6 months old.

H. B. McKenney, pair 2-year-old steers; bay mare with colt.

Dr. G. W. Fernald of Bethel was there with his black trotter, Owissa.

E. B. Hersey, Southdown ewe and lamb. Mr. Hersey raises some of the best Plymouth Rock as a profitable breed to handle. He exhibited 6 roosters and 6 pullets of this year's chicks, and the birds show for themselves that they have had good care.

Machines for Farm and Household.
J. D. Horr showed the new model self-locking O. K. swivel plow, made by F. C. Merrill of South Paris. This plow will turn level land as well as any, and is the easiest to manipulate of any that we ever saw. The O. K. spring-tooth harrow, the special feature of which is large clearing spaces; Worcester chain-gear mower; Worcester horse-rake and White sewing machine were also shown by Mr. Horr.

But the people are the fair, and they were in greatest numbers.

On the Common.
Where peddlers shouted the merits of their wares and the hoarse cry of the fair resounded through the air, "Get 'em up again, boys," and "Who'll try 'em next?" bawled at once from a score of throats may possibly bewilder some body.

HOME AND SOCIETY

Greater Burdens than Delicate Women Can Bear Without Help.

Women may find Strength and Inspiration in Dr. Greene's Nervura for the Nerves and Blood.

What greater strain could there be upon women's nerves than the never-ending cares of a household? None, unless it might be the exertions of society. Three meals a day, seven days a week, and all different. Soft words and sweet smiles when husbands are cross and children crying. Wise talk on weighty subjects and witticisms on airy nothings. These things and much more are expected of women. Is it strange that they are not always equal to the world's expectations?

DR. GREENE'S NERVURA
For the Nerves and Blood

Overworked women may find strength and buoyancy in Dr. Greene's Nervura. It is not a stimulant affording only temporary relief and followed by corresponding depression, but a permanent renewer of life and vigor. Exhaustion, despondency, irritability, nervous headaches and dyspepsia, and all ailments arising from nervous derangements and impure and weak blood are quickly relieved by this standard remedy, which may be obtained from any first-class druggist.

If you do not fully understand your case, and feel the need of expert medical advice, Dr. Greene invites you to call upon or write to him at 24 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. No charge is made for answers to such inquiries.

Tintype gallery and candy stand were the queer combination run by W. W. Hollis of Lynn.

The shooting gallery and base ball range managers were W. W. McKenney, Lynn; Libby Allen & Richardson, Bridgton; O. J. Williams, Waterford; Eugene Doyle of North Turner Bridge, who was also the funny Irishman with a striking machine. Another striking machine was owned, operated and presided over by W. B. Moro of Waterville, who had the dirtiest face on the grounds.

Twitcheil Bros. of Oxford had a big trade in fruits and nuts. They couldn't supply the demand, and it is rare that they get left. But the people wanted good fruit, and the Twitcheil's didn't have the other kind.

Then there were others, with more or less elaborate lines of confectionery, soft drinks, pies and cakes, pop corn, etc.

A. J. Meyers of Norway was on hand with a large stock of his bottled soda waters, hot frankforters, confectionery, cigars and fruits. He had several helpers and did a rushing business.

Others were W. W. Grant, Bethel; George Sanborn, Bridgton; W. A. Richardson, Bridgton; Wilber McAllister, Stoneham; J. A. Wheeler, Bridgton; H. E. Abbott, Norway; E. W. Cordwell, Albany; Allie L. Cummings, Albany; F. L. Fogg, Harrison; N. Elliot, Waterford; Chas. C. Flanders, Stoneham.

A great lot of shoes, underwear, towels, miscellaneous articles was the stock in trade of G. W. Willey of Norway. A tin pepper named Deering also got a slice of the business.

"Old Dr. Drew" of Portland, electro-magnetic and botanic physician, discoursed on the merits of his electric appliances for all manner of ailments.

George P. Tucker of South Paris with phonograph and a Mr. Walker from Bridgton with graphophone were the musicians of the occasion.

W. T. Merrow of Lewiston took lots of pictures at his tintype gallery.

From field, garden and orchard. The season of 1897 has been repeatedly called bad. But in spite of that handicapped the farmers about North Waterford brought in many good specimens from farm and garden and trees.

W. B. Cummings showed a trace of sweet corn, two traces of pop corn and three varieties of apples.

D. A. Cummings—watermelon. George Cummings—cucumbers, carrots, turnips, five kinds of apples. E. B. McKenney—pumpkin, Hubbard squash, cabbage, Alexander apples. Mrs. Annie F. Flint—pumpkin, cranberries. M. C. Andrews—plate of pears. E. P. Judkins—six kinds of potatoes, three kinds of apples. Henry Sawin—31 kinds of apples, crab-apples, pears, cucumbers, kail, 2 kinds of pop corn, a huge potted begonia. E. B. Hersey—enormous sunflower. T. Crosby—squashes. E. H. Foster—potted cotton plant with white fluffy cotton bursting from the ball. There were bouquets scattered about the tables in the hall, mostly unlabeled. There were marigolds, dahlias, gladioli, asters, pansies, portulacae, etc. Mrs. W. B. Cummings had some beautiful dahlias, yellow, crimson and purple. Some of the other exhibitors of flowers were Mrs. E. T. Judkins, Mrs. Charles Rice, Mrs. G. M. Knight, Clara Hersey. Sewn or Hooked or Knit. Mrs. W. B. Cummings—sewn rug, two pairs mittens, handkerchief, scissors holder.

Daisy E. Cummings—3 specimens lace. Mrs. E. T. Judkins—worked banner, 2 pretty sewn rugs, yarn rug. Mabel V. Becker—tidy of pink ribbon with apple green crocheted work, lamp mat with lace fringe. Clara Becker—tidy, picture throw, big pin cushion. Lilla G. Cummings—lace. Mrs. Charles Bartlett—sofa pillow. Mrs. J. O. Sawyer—yarn rug. Mrs. M. L. Mason—sofa pillow, patchwork quilt of 6435 pieces. Mrs. Lydia M. Sawin—crazy quilt, crocheted headrest. Daisy B. Foster—embroidered bedspread. Mrs. Jennie M. Jewett—2 yarn rugs. Agnes Sawin—crazy quilt, 3 specimens lace, embroidered quilt. Charlotte S. Cummings—crazy quilt, patchwork quilt in pine tree pattern and colors of slate and yellow with pink between the squares, 2 drawn rugs. Mrs. Janet H. Bennett—stockings knit by lady 80 years old. Mrs. Henry Sawin—crazy cover for sofa quilt, red and white patchwork quilt and drawn rug. Mrs. Edith McIntire—large drawn rug, three table mats, pink and white Tam-o-Shanter. Grace Sawin, seven years old—pair of stockings excellently knit and proof that the good old art of knitting is not wholly dying out. Helen B. Knight—sofa pillow, embroidered dolly. Mattie M. Flint—crazy quilt. Mrs. J. E. McIntire—large drawn rug, embroidered tray cloth. Mrs. S. E. Gilman, crocheted dolly. Lucy Johnson—2 specimens of lace. Mrs. Nancy Andrews—embroidered tidy. Maude Becker—2 pink and green tidies. Mrs. Gladys M. Heywood—2 crocheted neckties, dolly, 5 fancy white aprons, chataleine, handkerchief. Alice W. Saunders—4 nicely embroidered dillies and 2 fancy aprons. Mrs. Horace B. Foster—3 crocheted mats. Mrs. Hattie Foster—embroidered tray cloth. Mrs. Bertha Rice—several embroidered dillies, tidies and splashes. Mrs. C. H. Fernald—tidies in crazy patchwork and crocheted. Mrs. H. P. Elliott—picture throw, tidy, clothes brush holder, handkerchief case, dolly, specimens of delicate lace. The clothes brush holder was an oddity in the shape of a shoe, cut from wood and covered with green velvet. We noticed one young woman triumphantly carrying home a pattern of it marked with pencil on paper. The picture throw was of white illusion lace, with a filling of milkweed down and seeds. Mrs. Charles Flint—wreath of worsted flowers. Mrs. George Abbott—fancy lamp mat, crocheted table mats. Alice L. Allen—crocheted yellow and white Tam-o-Shanter, fancy white apron. M. J. Flint—crocheted lamp mat. Mrs. Carrie Plummer—fancy apron. Mildred Kilgore—pink and forgotten net dressing case ornament, crocheted tidies and mats and dillies. A pair of black stockings were labeled: "Knit by Mrs. Laura Hutchinson when 91 years old." Mrs. C. S. Cummings—2 skeins yarn, 2 pairs stockings, pair mittens. Louise M. Brown—pink fascinator. Products of Dairy and Kitchen. Mrs. C. S. Cummings exhibited a great yellow cheese, as rich as cream. Mrs. C. Fernald—glazed butter molded in the shape of a pine cone. Mrs. E. T. Judkins—seven cans of berries. Inez Johnson—4 cans of fruit. Old and New. There were a lot of antiques and oddities. Mrs. W. B. Cummings—ancient parol; some 17th century pottery comprising sugar bowl, cup, teapot, pitcher, bowl, platter, cup and saucer, another sugar bowl, a teapot. W. B. Cummings—pair horse pistols, brass barreled, one with flint lock, the other changed to percussion cap; spurs, flax wheel, apple parer. Inez Johnson—skimmer of cocoanut shell with wooden handle. Mrs. C. S. Cummings—old blue nappy. Eugene Andrews—laid wooden work box of his own make. E. T. Judkins—plate of eggs from his Plymouth Rock fowl, one measuring 6x7 1/2 inches. Mrs. G. E. Grover exhibited a couple of charcoal drawings by Barton O. Smith, one a landscape, the other a portrait of Abraham Lincoln. Roy C. Wardwell—fox skin. This year for the first time the fair was held for more than one day. Friday, Oct. 1, was the first. Nearly a thousand people assembled, and that's quite a throng in the road. J. F. Lewis had stabled and hitched in his yard some two hundred horses. He had a check system and it worked first-rate. Our team was checked No. 105. Many horses were put up at other places. In the hotel, Mr. Lewis served dinner and supper to a goodly throng. A large proportion of the visitors to the place got their meals at the Congressional vestry, where a baked bean dinner was served for a quarter. The oxen pulled. A load of stone weighing 3 tons was piled on the drag, and the course was along the road in deep sand. Justin E. McIntire's cattle got the drag load along 27 ft. 9 in. Merritt Sawin's pulled it 36 ft. 6 in. J. F. Lord's hauled it 25 ft. 4 1/2 in. At an early hour, the merry makers began to dance in Lewis Hall. All the afternoon the music, and the whirl of dancing feet rose above the hum of conversation there, and the festivities were continued till far into the night. M. F. Knight was hall director, and Bennett's Continued on seventh page.

THE GREAT K&A TRAIN ROBBER

PAUL LEICESTER FORD

Copyright, 1896, by J. B. Lippincott Co.

The three conspirators jumped feet and bolted for the window. The sheriff turned to look. As he gave him a shove toward the door, which sent them all sprawling, floor in a pretty badly mixed position. I made a dash for the door as I went through it I grabbed and locked them in. As I turned I saw the lot struggling up a floor, and, knowing that it was taking them many seconds to fly away out through the window, I waste much time in watching them.

Camp, Baldwin and the five left their horses just outside the door and they were still patrolling, with their bridges thrown over heads, as they went toward the door. I didn't take me long to take them back in place, and as each one of the peak of the M. side I gave two of the puffs. I started them off at a log on the railroad tracks. I swung up the saddle of the third and third with the loose ends of the way which made him and Baldwin's business.

Baldwin's cowboys had just scattered to the various places, but two of them were still in the doorway of the store. I took them, however, that they didn't take in what I was about to do. Then I heard a yelp, fearing that they might shoot, I saw the cowboy dole to use his gun, and sharp at the sudden coming up the side stair, just in the Camp climbing through the door with Baldwin's head in view.

Before I had ridden 100 feet I had a close up of the two, and, considering that they had over 40 miles that afternoon, I didn't think it was much to ask. I knew that Baldwin's cowboys were new recruits in the party, and I would overtake me in the way. Clearly there was no more to be done. I wasn't armed, my only weapon was a knife, and I didn't want to use it.

As I rode, I saw all the towns, is one long line of buildings, two hundred feet, that I saw me to the edge of the town, and I saw my gun and rode to the rear of the buildings. In the end of the back and saw half a dozen men already in the street. I was of them the next moment. As I reached a street leading back toward town I turned again and saw my own thought. I was so close to the station and the gates into the railroad that I was in the middle of the town.

When I reached the station, I saw that my boys were still in the other batch of cowboys were full gallop toward me, my heading me up in that direction. I saw them from the station, and I pursued. They yelled at me to stop and I expected every moment the crack of revolvers. I shot among them, would have difficulty in dragging my horse's distance if they had wanted to. It isn't a very nice situation, your ears pricked up in expectation, hearing the shooting from the station, that any moment may be more than 30 seconds, but I was enough to prove to me that the back turned to an enemy as I saw a take a deal more place stand up and

The Great K-A-Train Robbery.

The three conspirators jumped to their feet and looked for the window. Even the sheriff turned to look. As he did so, I gave him a shove toward the three, which sent them all sprawling on the floor in a pretty badly mixed up condition. I made a dash for the door, and as I went through it I grabbed the key and locked them in. As I turned to do so I saw the lot struggling up from the floor, and knowing that it wouldn't take them many seconds to find their way out through the window, I didn't waste much time in watching them.

Camp Baldwin and the judge had left their horses just outside the saloon, and the three were still patiently standing with their hands thrown over their heads as they waited for the sheriff to come. I didn't take me long to have those fellows back in place, and as I tossed each over the peak of the Mexican saddle I gave two of the ponies slaps which sent them off at a lops across the railroad tracks. I swung myself into the saddle of the third and flicked him with the ends of the bridle in a way which made him understand that I meant business.

Baldwin's cowboys had most of them gathered to the various saloons of the place, but two of them were standing in the doorway of a store. I acted so quickly that they didn't seem to notice me. I was about to go, and, feeling that they might shoot for the wrong party, I turned to use his gun—I turned to the saloon corner and rode up to the street, just in time to see Camp Baldwin through the window, with Baldwin's head in view behind him.

When I had ridden 100 feet I realized that I had done up horse under me, and, wondering that he had covered over his head, I turned in pretty quick time. It was not surprising that there wasn't very much gold left in him. I turned Baldwin's cowboys could get away in plenty without wasting any minutes and that then they would be in my very short order. Baldwin's cowboys were in my attempt to run. I was running. And, as I ran, I saw my only hope was to beat them to the finish.

As I ran, all western railroad men are like line of buildings running parallel with the railway tracks. The railroad feet, therefore, brought me to the town, and I wheeled around and rode down behind the railroad buildings. In turning I looked back and saw half a dozen mounted men in pursuit, but I lost sight of them at the next moment. As soon as I reached the street leading back to the railroad I turned again and rode toward it, not stopping to get back, but riding to the station and put the letters in the mail box.

When I reached the main street, I saw that my hope was futile, for an entire crowd of cowboys were coming in full force toward me, very thoroughly looking me off in that direction. To escape them I headed up the street away from the station, with the pack in close pursuit. They yelled at me to hold up, and I expected every moment to hear the crack of revolvers, for the poorest of cowboys would have found no difficulty in dropping my horse at that distance if they had wanted to stop me. I had a very nice sensation to keep my eyes peeled up in expectation of hearing the shooting begin and to know that my moment may be your last. I don't suppose I was on the rugged edge more than 80 seconds, but they were enough to prove to me that to keep one's back turned to an enemy as one runs away is a deal more pluck than to stand up and face his gun. Fortunately for me, my pursuers felt so sure of my capture that not one of them drew a bead on me.

The moment I saw that there was no chance I put my hand in my breast pocket and took out the letters, intending to throw them into the crowd.

neath it, as far as I could see, to hide them, but the game was a desperate one at best, and the very boldness of the idea might be its best chance of success.

I was now heading for the station over the ties and was surprised to see Fred Cullen with Lord Rallos on the tracks up by the special, for my mind had been so busy in the last hour that I had forgotten that Fred was due. The moment I saw him I rode toward him, pressing my pony for all he was worth. My hope was that I might get time to give Fred the tip as to where the letters were, but before I was within speaking distance Baldwin came running out from behind the station, and, seeing me, turned, called back and gestured, evidently to summon some cowboys to head me off. Afraid to shout anything which should convey the slightest clue as to the whereabouts of the letters, as the next best thing I pulled a couple of old section reports from my pocket, intending to ride up and run into my car, for I knew that the papers in my hand would be taken to be the wanted letters and that if I could only get inside the car even for a moment the suspicion would be that I had been able to hide them. Unfortunately the plan was no sooner thought of than I heard the whistle of a train, and before I could guard myself the noise settled over my head. I threw the papers toward Fred and Lord Rallos, shouting, "Hide them!" Fred was quick as a flash, and, grabbing them off the ground, sprang up the steps of my car and ran inside, just escaping a bullet from my pursuers. I tried to pull up my pony, for I did not want to be jerked off, but I was too late, and the next moment I was lying on the ground in a pretty well shaken and jarred condition, surrounded by a lot of men.

orchestra played the tunes. A room of twice the size would not have accommodated all who wished to take part in those festivities.

Second Day.

Saturday, the second and last day, there was an attendance greatly in excess of Thursday's, it being estimated by good judges as high as 3,500 people. Everybody seemed satisfied, too.

East Waterford Brass Band furnished music, playing on the common, during a good part of the day.

Two classes of horses pulled, the dividing line being 2,500 lbs. weight in pairs.

The three heavy-weights pulled first. Rufus Morrill of Norway, 1 pair chestnuts weighing 2,300, pulled the load 207 ft. 9 in., and got first money. Rufus Morrill, 1 pair roans weighing 2,500, pulling the load 167 ft. 8 in., got second money. Fred Knightly of Waterford, one pair bay horses weighing 2,950; owing to difference in the weight of Knightly's and Morrill's horses, they agreed to put 540 lbs. more load on the Knightly horses and pull on equal terms with the Morrill horses. The Knightly horses pulling the load 147 ft. 6 in., got third money.

There were four entries in the other class. Andrew Jackson of New had a pair of gray horses weighing 2,600 and pulled the load 214 feet and got first money. Guy Curtis of Norway, one pair of gray horses weighing 2,350, pulled the load 126 ft. and got second money. Eugene Millett of Norway, one pair of gray horses weighing 2,300, pulled the load 124 ft. 8 in., and got third money. Will Mason of Norway had a very nice pair of gray colts weighing 2,200, pulled the load 112 ft. 5 in. This was a very nice pair of colts and if nothing happens to them will be amongst the winners at next year's fair.

A. F. Tilton, wife and Master Don of Auburn are spending a few days with Mr. T's parents.

Stanley Bisbee and family and Mrs. W. E. Pike of Rumford Falls were in town over Sunday.

Monday morning's train carried O. H. Hersey to Augusta, Mrs. Merritt Parsons to Nashua, N. H., Mrs. O. H. Prince to Waterville.

Sunday night, burglars broke into the post-office, after breaking into Clove and Turner's blacksmith shop and procuring tools. Two lights were broken in a lower sash, a ladder placed to the window and marks of blood were left. Nothing taken.

Sunday afternoon as Harry Dudley was coming to church, driving a young horse in a road cart, at a gait more appropriate to a race track than a church going jog, in making a turn to cross the bridge a wheel collapsed, throwing him to the ground, and with feet fastened in the cart he was dragged at a fearful rate about twenty rods. He was considerably hurt but luckily no bones were broken and the horse was not injured.

Boston has won the pennant. But how about Buckfield? Mollie Cole caught a fly in the head early in the season, which she has considerably, and later in the season as Green Turner and wife came into the village a ball thrown across the river struck Mrs. Turner in the head, and the wonder was that she was not killed outright. Last week some of the young men repaired to the school yard for a game of foot ball, and the result was a broken leg for Chas. Bowen's little boy. Now I think Buckfield should claim a record if not the pennant. Ball passing is carried on in the streets, over and across where teams are hitched, and the most unreasonable of all is the fact that it is by those who have arrived at men's estate. One man who has escaped being run down by bicycles several times claims that preparations for a funeral are imminent, unless more care is exercised on the sidewalks. It does seem as though young men, if not time, might step out a few rods and doubtless they would if they could appreciate the feelings of those who are compelled to keep an eye out for a ball.

Your correspondent with friend Enoch Thompson took a trip through Livermore, Turner and Auburn, last week. Visited the home of our early settlers. Stopped over, one night at the Notlands, a spot which has become historic on account of its being the birthplace of the Washburn family. The large and spacious house, with the well kept grounds, fine hedges and granite library of fine architectural design and beauty well stored with books and curios, with paintings of men of note other than the family make the place an object of interest. The place has been under the supervision of C. R. Babt and wife for nine years and from appearances there seems to have been no mistake in the selection of superintendents. We feel called upon to express our appreciation for favors received at the hands of Mr. Babt and wife when taking us to the place, was considerable inconvenience to them. The old church a few rods removed with its tall spire adds dignity to the surroundings, and it was from this spire that Steeple Jack fell to his death a few rods from the church. The evening, while endeavoring to keep his spire of adjustment from prying eyes. He fell 75 feet, striking first the roof, breaking the boards, then to the earth. Fortunately your correspondent's wife was not along, as Mrs. Babt, having been a close student of human nature, wishes some remarks of "a very familiar tone," that the men had really conceived the idea that their sickness and sufferings were far greater than those of woman-kind. We cared not to discuss this point yet where two or three women are met together, like-minded, they can make it quite interesting (?) for themselves.

ALBANY.

Mrs. Alice Bass has returned to her home in Boston.

Fletcher I. Bean and little daughter were at his brother's, A. G. Bean's, one day this week.

Mrs. Melitta Pingree and her sister, Mrs. Hannah Pingree of Georgetown, Mass., are visiting relatives and friends at Hunt's Corner.

Herbert Bean and wife, nee Maud Cross, have gone to Brooklyn, N. Y., the home of her husband's parents, to visit of their many friends go with them.

The Cong'l S. S. Conference which met here, last week, was a very interesting occasion but owing to the weather, presumably, the attendance was quite small.

The observance of children's day by R. M. Grange was an occasion of much happiness for the little ones as well as their elders. Singing and recitations were very good and a substantial dinner was heartily relished by all.

A very interesting and instructive sermon by Rev. T. S. Perry was delivered, Oct. 3, at our church from the text, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things he possesseth." Luke xii, 15. He very clearly demonstrated the truth of the saying. We are to have the pleasure of listening to him next Sunday.

SWEDEN.

Died in Boston, Mass., Sept. 19th, Mrs. Lillian G. McCallum, wife of J. Frank McCallum, and oldest daughter of Wm. H. and Mary E. Gordon of Sweden, aged 28 years and 2 months. The death of this beautiful young woman has enshrouded the entire community in sadness, and to the husband and family the blow was very severe. Of marked purity of character and uprightness of life, the deceased was generally beloved, coupled with this her long and painful illness covering a period of five years have made her an object of tender sympathy and solicitude to all. The eldest of four children, around her centered the love of the family and all her kinspeople, and the bereavement has stricken many hearts. Taken with la grippe, five years ago, she has endured two severe surgical operations and relieved only by occasional weeks and months of convalescence, she has practically been stricken with invalidism all these years. Despite this she has borne all her ills with Christian resignation, free from talk of death and apparently passed from this life of pain and suffering to the resurrection world, uncomplainingly. She left Sweden in July last for Boston, under advice of eminent medical practitioners, in the hope that change of climate might prove beneficial. But on route at Portland, her condition necessitated hospital treatment and a severe surgical operation, and five weeks later the journey to Boston was completed; and from thence a few weeks later she took her departure to the Better Land. The remains were brought to Sweden for interment. The funeral services at the old home residence of Wm. H. Gordon were largely attended and very impressive. Rev. E. N. Stone of Fryeburg officiated. The singing by Seymour Bannington's Lovell choir was beautifully rendered and deeply affecting. The testimonial of loving friends in the floral offerings was very generous and touchingly evinced the esteem in which the deceased was held. The kind husband who has so tenderly cared for her during all these years of her feeble health, has the kindest sympathy of all in his bereavement. Among the relatives present were Dora S. Hammond and Mattie A. Gordon of Biddeford; Mrs. E. E. McCallum of New Bedford, Mass.; Fred E. Gordon of Biddeford; Mrs. McKenney of Portland, sister of Dr. Gordon; and Samuel and William Gordon of Fryeburg, brothers of the same. G. G. Shirley, A. P. Gordon and wife, and Mrs. Maria E. Adams were also present. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock, and the remains were placed in a casket and taken to the high estate in which the deceased was held. The floral offerings and names of the donors we will give as far as we know.—A beautiful bouquet by J. E. McCallum, husband of the deceased; a beautiful pillow form and roses with the word Rest upon it by J. W. Gordon and wife of Boston; a lovely crown of flowers by J. W. Gordon; cut flowers by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McCallum of New Bedford, Mass.; two bouquets of aster and 25 pink roses from Mrs. A. Gordon of Biddeford; a bouquet of gladioli, pansies and dahlias by the sisters, Mrs. Alice G. Briggs, Mrs. Lottie E. Smith; roses and lilies of the valley by J. E. McCallum, husband of the deceased; a beautiful pillow form and roses by Mr. and Mrs. Henderson of Boston; a flat bouquet of 25 pink roses to represent her age from ladies in Boston; beautiful cut flowers by Mrs. Saville and son of Boston; bouquet and basket of flowers by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ames; a pillow with the word Love upon it by Mrs. Henry Jewett of Lovell; lovely bouquet of white stocks and lilies by Mrs. Frank Briggs of Lovell. We wish to speak especially of J. W. Gordon and wife, who together with the husband were constantly by her bedside during the last days and nights of her life, ministering to her every want, and for which attentions the immediate family are very grateful.

Gracie Hayes, who has been visiting friends in this vicinity, the past two weeks, returned to her home at Copperville, N. H., Sunday.

Sadie Kendall from York Harbor, who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Sheild, last week, left on Thursday for Boston, where she will spend the winter.

William Bradbury of this place died, Saturday, Oct. 2, of typhoid fever. The funeral occurred at the Baptist church, Sunday at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. E. C. Bolles officiating in a most eloquent manner. The Odd Fellows of which he was a member were largely represented and he had charge of the remains. The bearers were Geo. Ridlon, Emerson Curtis, Lewis Mann and Samuel Ray of that order. The Golden Cross of which he was also a member was in attendance. The flowers were beautiful. The deceased leaves a widow and two daughters, who will sadly miss a father's love and care. He also leaves two sisters to mourn his loss. He was a kind and obliging friend and will be much missed in this community.
